Re: Letter of Recommendation for Steven Barker

To Whom It May Concern:

Steven Barker is a senior leader at our high school by serving as Worship Leader, Basketball Captain, Volleyball Captain and ASB Senior representative. He is a scholar athlete and competes on three varsity teams (Cross Country in fall) and played football when our school offered the program. He will complete the requirements AA degree (16 college courses) and has taken five AP courses. Steven is one of our homecoming kings and is a mentor on our campus who is nice and role model to all students.

Being the son of the Head of School is difficult, but he has taken this role well. Steven and I respect each other so much and he is his own person on campus. He has succeeded because of his good decisions and his own faith in Christ. I have been privileged to be able to witness his continued growth and success over the last four years. He also has several other faculty members who have had a strong impact on Steven to learn mentoring and leadership skills.

Currently, he is the center for our basketball team and the Captain. Steven is positive, energetic and his energy is contagious. Last week one of our sophomore basketball players was fatigued in practice and Steven encouraged him through the tough workout. Steven is totally committed to his teams and succeeding in school and starts the day with morning workouts at 6:15 am each morning.

This year, Steven has led worship on the guitar at chapel. This is a huge responsibility that includes playing for the entire school, preaching, planning, and encouraging fellow students to rehearse for chapel. Steven has such a heart to lead fellow students in worship and is our FCA Lead. Steven is going to impact the community at the university he attends just because of his energy and desire to share his faith.

Steven is a dedicated student who has taken many AP and college courses. He started AP courses in the 10th grade with World History AP and I noticed his intellect and ability to think on a college level. Since World History AP, Steven continues to earn credit towards his AA degree and will be graduating with honors from AHS.

Sincerely,

Dr. Michael R. Barker, Ed.D.
